COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

A new sander purchase was authorized by the selectmen Monday night. This unit will replace one of the same make that has been in service many years. The new unit will be of great value during road surfacing and the maintenance of winter roads.

Notices have been sent to delinquent poll and personal taxpayers for 1967 and prior years. These will be followed by summons served by an officer. This increases the costs to the taxpayer considerably. Arrangements may be made at the town office for partial or installment payments before the summons are served otherwise they must be paid in full, plus expenses.

Work on the 1968 assessment is progressing. Mr. Gagnon is doing new construction and alterations as his time schedule permits. Indications are now we had enough new construction in 1967 to offset the value of the former water company which is exempt from taxation now that it has become a Water District.

Maine, the State of wilderness and dangerous animals. We have often kidded "foreigners" about how wild Maine is. "It's not safe to go outside your house at night because of the wild bears lurking in the bushes ready to attack. We have so much snow that we travel with dog teams." Many other things along this line have been said. I never thought it would ever happen, but it did according to Richard Felt, a farmer in our vicinity.

Three bears were prowling around his barn, looking for a way to get at his lambs housed in the barn one night last week. One went through a window and killed some and mangled one. He decided to rig up a light and catch them at it. To make a long story short, Richard shot one, weighing 250 lbs. He thought he wounded another. One old bear they had been hunting for six years is still at large. Mr. Felt hopes we will come back so he can get a shot at him some night. The worse of it is the sheep will have to remain under cover for a bit longer until the bears move on.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —
The Greenwood Pound
It dates back in town to Greenwood's early history possibly to 1858 when this section was in its early years.

Some records say Thomas Furlong settled on the farm now occupied by the Roy Millett family. Up until a few years ago two large stones, one on either side of a gap in the stone wall which crossed the field bore the initials T. F.

Thomas Furlong was pound keeper for several years. This pound is still found on Pound Hill on the Locke Mills road.

We recently visited it, I for the first time in the many years of living in town.

Stopping by, stillness lay upon everything except the outbursting of song, from the birds giving joy to the stretch of woodland and the river carrying on a monologue in the far distance background.

There was dampness round about and thick growing brush under foot. Sweet white violets lifted their heads and ferns were uncurling along the wall.

with her daughter, Mrs. Agnes Haines.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dunham of Locke Mills visited Mr. and Mrs. Almon Coolidge.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawrence Crockett and family have moved to Locke Mills to live.

George Abbott of North Woodstock was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Foster, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stearns of Rumford Corner visited Albert Foster, Monday.

What an arduous task, swinging pick-axes and breaking into the area then placing stone after stone to make the enclosure. It was a job well done to stand a century or more.

At this site and beyond these limits, through the valley moved the ox teams and the wagons of those days rattling on with their loads. Here the intrepid pioneers dwell so quietly building monuments like this, and others to their memory.

Then came the call of the oriole, "Why-come-here, come-here" and the clear sweet liquid notes of the white throated sparrow from over the hill bring me back to the present. Twilight would soon move down the mountain brushing the tips of the trees.

We must move on again through the growing brush and leave the bird songs of joy, to the forest and the century old pound, which so recently had slumbered under winter's frost and snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Montie Millett, of Pittsfield, N. H., are at their home in town for a few days. They visited a nephew in Portland Friday night and there attended the wedding of a niece on Saturday. The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Ellen Andrews, sister of the bride, Mrs. Sonja Davis, sister of the groom, and Miss Donna Morgan, a classmate, wore frosted lilac gowns with bell sleeves and empire waists. They wore Dion bows of darker shade and carried green tinted daisies with white satin ribbon. The flower girl was Miss Cheryl Roberts, a sister of the groom, who wore lilac taffeta with lace tent. She carried a basket of rose petals. The church was decorated with evergreen trees, apple-blossoms and white narcissi.

Following the wedding a reception was held in Woodstock Town Hall. The gift table was in charge of Mrs. Richard Baker, a sister of the bride, and Mrs. Earl Palmer, Jr., an aunt, both of West Paris. Mrs. James Andrews, had charge of the guest book.

The bride graduated from Woodstock High School in the class of 1967. She is a member of the Universalist Church and Jefferson Chapter No. 89, O. E. S. She is employed in the office at Marcal Paper Mills, Inc., Mechanic Falls.

The groom was educated in Minnesota and Massachusetts, graduating from Woodstock High School last June. He is employed by the Marcal Paper Mills, Inc., Mechanic Falls.
